From our Correspondent. Kri Weer, Tuesday, March 22, 1803. The marine news from the Florida Reef shows no cessation in the loss of versele upon those removeless rocks. Wrocks are rather occessing, and unless our tards Government erects a cordon of anti-bouses about the coast, we shall perhaps have the ship of State berself in distrees. The Department to whom has been entrusted the construction of light houses have delayed in the matter of the Sand Key Light most shamefully. The old light was destroyed in 1840, and a light-local showing a miserable light was anchored mear the reof and remained until last June, when it could ride no lenger, and reef and remained until hast June, when it could ride no lenger, and it was condemned. An iron screw pile light of the most magnificent design, commenced four years age, is now being completed, and will soon be ready for lighting. It is placed upon Sand Key in the same position as the old brick structure. Its hight is 120 feet, and hawing a broad base 80 feet square and trapering to 16 feet, it will have re-asstated sufficient to proceed it from datager during the most violent burreames. The keeper's house is lorly feet above the writer, and will be beyond the reach of the hagbest wave. It stands upon the top of the first time of pillars (wheel we were and 17 in number.) The weight of the entre structure is 400 time.
